

COURT OF APPEAL OF NEW ZEALAND

Practice Note - Bail Applications and Appeals

[1] Bail applications brought under s 54 of the Bail Act 2000 will be heard in the Court of Appeal in the following way:

- (a) in Court (including by AVL, where permitted, but not by telephone) and not on the papers;
- (b) by a single Judge (or by three where s 333(3) of the Criminal Procedure Act 2011 applies); and
- (c) listed in the online daily fixtures list and Court foyer list (the form of listing being subject to applicable suppression orders).

[2] Bail appeals brought under s 42 of the Act will be heard in the Court of Appeal in the following way:

- (a) in Court (unless the criteria in s 329(2) or (3) of the Criminal Procedure Act apply, in which event the appeal will be dealt with on the papers);
- (b) by three Judges in either case; and
- (c) listed as in 1 above.
